TWIN GIRLS CLAIM PRIZES IN CONTEST

Babes Weighing Slightly Over 2 Pounds Put in Incubators.

Twins, two girls, were born at City hospital early today, arriving in time to claim fourth and fifth positions in the 1948 baby contest and also their share of the prizes which will be distributed by a number of Marion merchants to the first six babies of the New Year born to parents who are residents of Marion. Another baby, still to be born, also will share in the prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Simpson of 334 Willow street are the parents of the twin girls, born prematurely at 1:48 a. m. and 2:02 a. m., weighing two pounds, seven ounces, and two pounds, two and three-quarters ounces, respectively. Both babies have been placed in incubators at the hospital. No names have been decided as yet by the mother and father for the twins, the first addition to the Simpson family.

Mrs. Simpson is the former Miss Martha Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ray, of 234 Willow and Mrs. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, reside near Marion. The father of the twins is employed at the Marion Engineer Depot.

A baby born yesterday afternoon at City hospital which does not figure in the contest, was a son to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller of Cardington, route 3. According to the rules of the contest, parents must be residents of Marion.

A birth at City hospital Wednesday night, not reported by the hospital to The Star yesterday proved to be the last baby born in Marion in the year 1947. The child, a boy, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Robinson of 480 North Main street. The baby, weighing nine pounds and seven ounces, has been named "Terry Lane" and is the first child in the Robinson household. Mrs. Robinson before her marriage was Miss Virginia Mosher of Irey avenue.

The first baby in Marion in the new year claiming first place in the New Year's contest was Michael Croc Marchetto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Creatore Marchetto of 215 Ellis court. Second place went to Betty Jane Swindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Swindler of 302 Edwards street, and third to Virginia Leo Schmelzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Schmelzer of 191 Neil avenue.

Milk Prices Go Up A Cent Here Sunday

A rise of one cent per quart in the price of milk in the Marion area, effective Sunday, was announced by milk distributors here today. This will make the price to consumers 20 cents a quart. Raising of the cost is made necessary because of the cost of the raw product, rise in cost of feed for dairy herds and other rising costs, involved in maintaining dairymen, a spokesman stated.

It was pointed out that if prices were not increased here, local milk distributors would lose their milk supply to surrounding areas which have already followed the trend of raised price.

AIR SAFETY REPORT FILED BY EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A blue ribbon board of experts picked President Truman to study air safety has concluded that this is a constant concentration by both industry and government.

"The five men did not agree on all points in the final report released by the White House last night. The special board was appointed June 15.

Milton W. Arnold, vice president of the Air Transport Association, filed a minority report criticizing the majority for branching out into economic problems under a cloak of safety.

For his part, Arnold, a retired air force brigadier general, said that "fundamentally, the fault in commercial aviation is its complexity; therefore the panacea is simplification."

He added that there is little hope for great advances in simplification for several years, but that nevertheless safety and reliability are continuing to improve.

The majority said that the safety record of the airlines, considering their past-war problems, is "eminently commendable."

Howard E. Cox, a veteran airline pilot representing his union, disagreed with the majority's discussion of personnel problems and announced that he will file a memorandum.

Specialist Called On "Russian Cancer Case"

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 3.—Prof. Elis Berven, Swedish cancer specialist and radiologist, left by plane today for Moscow for "consultation on a serious cancer case."

"I cannot tell you who my patient is because I don't know myself yet," Dr. Berven told newsmen. He received a cable request from "the Russian authorities."

Mrs. Berven said her husband had no idea how long he might be in Moscow. She added that his assistance had been requested "not for an operation, but only for consultation."

Dr. Berven, 62, is chief physician of the Stockholm Radium hospital.

Before the war a Swedish brain surgeon, Prof. Herbert Olivecrona, was called to Moscow for consultation under similar circumstances. Later it developed that he had performed an operation on a high Soviet official.

Unfriendly Greeting For Friendship Food

MILAN, Jan. 3.—America's friendship food experienced the thinnest welcome yet in Italy when the "Trend Dell'Amicizia" pulled in here this morning. Milan sent none of its top officials, who are all Communist or Socialist, to greet the train in contrast to other stops yesterday in the Communist north at Florence and Bologna, where Communists took the platform and extended warm thanks to the American people for their generosity.

RELIEF IS DUE STORM-BOUND AREAS OF U.S.

Clearing Weather Is Forecast for Sections Hard Hit by Rain, Snow and Sleet.

By The Associated Press

A weekend of clearing weather for the storm-swept eastern half of the nation was in prospect today as communities whipped by sleet, snow and rain storms worked to restore business and industrial operations to normal.

Snow had abated today in nearly all sections of the country which had been lashed by this winter's most destructive and crippling storm.

Damages to property were expected to total millions of dollars, while the deaths of at least 16 persons were reported in the New England states and the New York metropolitan area. Other fatalities attributed to the storm were reported in the midwest section.

The federal weather bureau in Chicago reported snow flurries only in parts of New England and a freezing drizzle in sections of Ohio and Indiana. There were no indications of new falls of snow or rain immediately throughout the storm belt, which stretched from the Texas panhandle to the north Atlantic seaboard.

Temperatures To Rise

Temperatures in the midwest snow and ice belt were expected to rise at or above the freezing mark over the weekend, while they were expected to remain at about normal levels in the eastern section.

Hundreds of communities remained without telephone or light service, which was disrupted by the snapping of wires from the weight of ice or from the strong winds which accompanied the storm. The break in power lines also left thousands without heat or cooking facilities. Railroad motor and plane travel also was disrupted, but was returning to near normal in many midwest cities.

New York City, hit by the ice storm, escaped a heavy snow fall as the storm swept out to sea. However, thousands in the metropolitan area suffered the discomforts of darkness and cold from the icy siege which hit the nation's largest city one week after its record-breaking snow fall.

CHECK HIT-SKIP CAR CLUE IN GIRL'S DEATH

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—Skeptical of a coroner's ruling of death by stabbing, the head of the city homicide squad today checked the possibility eight-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley was struck by a hit-skip motorist and left to die on an East Side porch Thursday night.

Fragments of glass from an automobile headlight lens were found on East 124th street near the route the girl took when she left home to go to a nearby drug store on an errand for her father, Edward J. Tuley, a machinist.

Although no accident was reported, neighbors told police an automobile pulled away from in front of the porch on which Sheila died.

Blood stains on the sidewalk and accounts of nearby residents that they thought they heard moans were the only other clues.

Detective Lieut. David E. Kerr, head of the homicide squad, said an apparent absence of any motive strengthened his belief that the child might have been a hit-skip motorist's victim.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber, however, held to a theory Sheila was stabbed by a psychopathic person or a sadistic juvenile. He reported a bayonet-like knife wound in the girl's skull caused death and two other head stabs and four back wounds appeared to have been made by the same weapon.

Her face was bruised and her clothing streaked with dirt and sand.

Both Dr. Gerber and Kerr agreed there was no evidence the child was slain by a sex fiend.

Four Arabs Reported Dead in Reprisal Raid

JERUSALEM, Jan. 3.—Members of Hagana, the Jewish militia, announced today four Arabs were shot to death in a midnight reprisal raid on an Arab stronghold in the bloody no-man's land between Jewish Tel Aviv and Arab Jaffa.

Earlier, a Hagana source asserted that the Jewish defense force is convinced it can take, hold and defend a Jewish state, in partitioned Palestine, but that it will take two or three years and will cost many more lives.

Iowa City Isolated

The storm left Burlington, Ia. a community of 30,000 population, isolated except by shortwave radio. Homes have been without light and power since New Year's eve when the ice and snow storm hit the southeastern Iowa city.

About 40 smaller southeastern Iowa communities still were without telephone service.

Ohio Looks More Like Winter Today

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—Weather in Ohio today looked more like winter and less like some nightmare designed by nature to discourage the new year before it was well under way.

Highways through most of northwest Ohio were slippery, at least in stretches, and snow flurries dotted areas throughout Ohio during the night.

Most of the distress, however, developed out of the conglomeration of meteorological phenomena which enveloped the state over the New Year.

Telephone and power line poles were down, wires sagged and Ohioans counted the damage in the thousands of dollars.

The weatherman forecast cloudiness and continued cold with some snow, mostly around Lake Erie. Temperature appeared likely to moderate Sunday, the bureau reported, with a spreading of snow and rain through most of the state.

Tax Cut Bill High on List

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A "quickie" tax cutting bill and a short-term foreign aid measure were marked for first attention in the house as Republican leaders laid plans today for the new session of congress.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts coupled those two items with rent control extension and federal budget reduction as part of the early "must" program for the legislators convening Tuesday.

He said he expects the house to pass a tax reduction bill this month just to let the White House know what is on the way.

There are no plans for such rapid action in the senate, where some Republicans and many Democrats favor delaying tax legislation until the federal fiscal picture is clearer.

Knutson Bill Ready

Martin said he has no particular measure in mind, but Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the house ways and means committee has ready a bill to cut $5,600,000,000 off the present tax load and knock an estimated 7,400,000 people off the rolls.

The extent to which taxes can be cut, Martin said at a news conference yesterday, will depend in large measure on "the cooperation of the administration in helping out expenses."

But he declared "it is absolutely essential to have tax reduction this year."

The form of tax legislation and other major measures probably will be shaped next week by the G.O.P. steering committee which blueprints house Republican policy.

Martin himself favors a short-range foreign aid program as opposed to the four-year Marshall plan proposed by the administration.

Rest Action Coming Soon

He said congress must act soon on rent control legislation since the present law expires at the end of February. Indications are that it will be extended with no major changes.

The speaker also advocated a hike to 65 cents in the present 40-cent-an-hour minimum wage for non-organized industrial workers.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3.—Comedian Jimmie Durante withstood an operation successfully. It was reported from the hospital last night that his condition was "good."

The surgery was for removal of an intestinal tumor. Fellow comedians are taking his place on the radio until his return, expected Jan. 21.

OIL SUPPLY THREATENED

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—A strike of 1,000 oil barge and tanker crewmen manning harbor craft threatened tonight at midnight imperiled fuel oil lifelines linking the already fuel-short metropolitan area with New Jersey refineries.

Acting to head off the scheduled walkout tonight of union seamen, Theodore Kheel, city labor relations director, said operators and officials of the Longshoremen's local had arranged to meet in "continuous session" today to negotiate the dispute.

Newspaper Staff Pays for Herbert's Marriage License

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—Marion County Clerk A. Jack Tilson of Indianapolis won't have to pay for Ohio Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's marriage license after all.

The Ohio State Journal, the Ohio capital's morning newspaper, lifted Clerk Tilson off the hook last night with a gift of a $2 bill and a letter "as a token of appreciation."

Governor Herbert and Miss Mildred Stevenson of Indianapolis obtained the license yesterday.

"The governor of Indiana," said Clerk Tilson as he presented the document, "takes great pleasure in, in presenting to you, the governor of Ohio, through me, this license."

Asked later who paid for the license, Tilson said:

"Oh, koshi I'm hooked. I'll have to pay the $2 out of my own pocket."

The staff of the Ohio State Journal real of Tilson's plight, dug into the stamp fund, purchased a new $2 bill from an editor and mailed it with a letter which said in part:

"The Ohio State Journal... notes with pride your readiness to uphold the dignity of the great state of Indiana and its executive at some sacrifice to yourself.

"In tribute to this spirit of cooperation... The Journal begs you to accept the enclosed engraving of Thomas Jefferson and the $2 bill on which it appears as a token of appreciation on the part of the great state of Ohio and its citizens on this felicitous occasion."

Spectacular Fire Razes Cincinnati Asphalt Co.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3—A spectacular fire roared through the Asphalt Products Co. plant in the Oakley section of the city early today, causing damage estimated at $250,000.

Joseph Guttman, co-owner of the company, who estimated the damage, said the block-long, one-story brick structure was "virtually destroyed."

The fire raged out of control for a time and firemen still were pouring water on smoldering embers nine hours after the first alarm was sounded at 1 a. m.

Flames, fed by highly-inflammable materials used in making insulated siding, produced by the plant, roared 100 feet into the air at the height of the blaze. Fire Marshal Durward George reported.

He said he sounded second and third alarm after arriving at the scene and seeing "everything lit up by flames."

The carbon arc light, which provided the first high-intensity street light in the United States, was first installed in Cleveland in 1879.

U.S. TOLD TO HOLD LINE AGAINST REDS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—Ray H. Brannaman, commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said today the United States "may be drawn very soon into another world war" unless it helps friendly nations to "hold the economic line against the advance of world communism."

At the same time there is a crisis at home, he said, caused by spiraling prices which stem from "a philosophy of scarcity, less work, less production, dog eat dog, everyone seeing how much he can get and how little he can give."

Brannaman declared there is a shortage of productive capacity in both food and goods which will continue to raise our living costs until it gets out of reach. He added:

"Unless we act promptly, the express 'boom and bust' will be a reality and not an idle warning. Our standard of living—our very system of personal freedom and free enterprise—is in jeopardy."

Brannaman's speech was prepared for broadcast for a meeting to which the VFW invited 24 congressmen, the ambassadors of Italy, France, Greece and China, the minister of Ireland, representatives of the Philippines.

Bishop's Farm Goods Sold To Pay Claim

By The Associated Press

MILLERSBURG, O., Jan. 3—The farm goods of Amish Bishop John W. Helmuth will be auctioned today to satisfy a $5,000 judgment obtained by Amishman Andrew J. Yoder, 33, of Wooster, O.

Bishop Helmuth, whose farm is at Wilnot, and four other leaders of the church were sued for $40,000 by Yoder who alleged he was damaged by a "mife" (boycott) imposed on him because he acquired an automobile, contrary to church rules.

As a result of the boycott, he alleged, members of the church in Wayne and Holmes counties refused to deal with him, to help him with his crops or to eat at the same table.

This, he told a jury last November, caused him considerable expense and impaired his health.

UN Council To Take Up India Problem

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 3—The United Nations security council was summoned to meet Tuesday to tackle the India-Pakistan dispute over the invasion of Kashmir.

The Indian government, outlining a situation which is said was "likely to endanger the maintenance of international peace and security" called upon the security council last night to require Pakistan to stop giving aid to the tribal invaders of Kashmir.

The Indian note said the matter was one of "extreme urgency" and added that if Pakistan's help to the tribal invaders was not halted, "the government of India may be compelled, in self defense, to enter Pakistan territory, in order to take military action against the invaders."

Keep Cable Messages Flowing Despite Strike

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 3—Supervisory employees worked around the clock as four major cable systems sought today to keep international traffic moving despite a strike of some 3,500 overseas communications workers.

The walkout began on both coasts yesterday but the companies said their services were largely unaffected except for curtailment of some transmissions to the Orient.

The curtailment was announced last night by Mackay Radio which said in San Francisco that its Honolulu service was inoperative but that communications were being maintained with China, Japan, the Philippines and Australia, with overall handling about 50 per cent of normal.

In New York, company spokesmen said, however, that all overseas transmissions were being put through by supervisory personnel.

Knowland said a summons calling on Bach and Co. to supply a copy of Graham's account has been prepared and will be issued as soon as a minor technical point is cleared up.

LAST OF 14 WRECK VICTIMS IDENTIFIED

By The Associated Press

OTTERVILLE, Mo., Jan. 3—Tentative identification of the last of 14 victims of a New Year's day passenger train wreck was complete today after the conductor, injured in the crash, said in a nearby Sedalia, Mo., hospital he thought "we were going too fast."

J. B. Rogers, the trainman, said he had started to pull the cord, to signal the engineer just before the wreck which jammed the engine of the second section of the train into the rear Pullman of the first.

The conductor estimated the speed of the train at 40 to 45 miles per hour and also said the block lights were not functioning properly. Earlier an official of the railroad had asserted the signals were working properly.

The wreck occurred during a blinding snowstorm.

Last to be identified among the victims was Spl. U. J. Hannaway of Astoria, Long Island, N. Y.

Other victims of the wreck included former Ambassador to Spain Alexander W. Weddell and his wife, and Hollywood film director Frank M. Ryan, his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Jewelry valued at $125,000 belonging to the Weddells was recovered from debris of the wreck yesterday by the state highway patrol.

Leaves should be removed from the lower part of stems of cut roses to prevent their decaying in water.

UNION TO FIGHT NLRB RULING

Examiner Finds Carpenters' Local Guilty of Taft-Hartley Violation.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The union to be held guilty of unfair labor practice under the Taft-Hartley act pledged today to fight the case all the way to the U. S. supreme court if necessary.

Herbert G. B. King, attorney for Local 74 of the AFL Carpenters union at Chattanooga, Tenn., said he will go the limit in opposing a ruling handed down here yesterday by J. J. Fitzpatrick, an examiner of the national labor relations board.

Fitzpatrick held that Local 74 engaged in a secondary boycott, named by the new labor law as an unfair labor practice, by calling a strike of union carpenters when non-union flooring installers came to work along side them in a Chattanooga home remodeling job.

The filing of unfair labor practice charges was limited under the old Wagner act to those against employers only. The Taft-Hartley law permitted them to be filed against unions, too, for the first time.

First Injunction Issued
In another precedent-setting decision, Federal Judge Stephen W. Brennan issued the first injunction under the Taft-Hartley law at Utica, N. Y., yesterday against Local 294 of the AFL Teamsters union.

The injunction restrains the local from continuing six alleged unfair labor practices—including one of so-called "featherbedding," or requiring an employer to pay for work not performed until the NLRB here can decide if the local was "unfair."

Local 294 was accused of demanding that the Conway Express Co. of Pittsfield, Mass., pay the union an amount equal to the wages of a union member as penalty for allowing a non-union member to drive a truck from New Britain, Conn., to Cleveland, O., last September.

Judge Brennan held that Montgomery Ward and Co. at Menands, near Albany, N. Y., was also entitled to an injunction against the Teamsters local on the basis of a charge of a secondary boycott. But the court said it was unnecessary to issue it for the time being because the local was restrained from engaging in secondary boycotts under terms of the Conway company injunction.

Chattanooga Ruling
In the Chattanooga case, Examiner Fitzpatrick ruled that the Carpenters' strike had the object of forcing the home remodeler, George D. Stanley, to "cease doing business" with the flooring installation firm, Watson's Specialty Store, which had a contract to do the work.

But Fitzpatrick held that the Carpenters' local did not call the strike to force the non-union workers to join the union, as had also been charged.

In still another action under the new labor law, the NLRB's regional office at New York last night issued a complaint charging restraint and coercion of employees against the AFL International Typographical Union and its locals in New York, Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

Former Marionite Recalls Friendship Train for Kansas

Contributions made to the Friendship Train for the hungry peoples of war-ravaged Europe by Kansans when the train passed through their state, recalled to one Kansan, E. B. Saylor, of a time when the people of that now prosperous state received similar aid in a "friendship" car of food sent from Marion county.

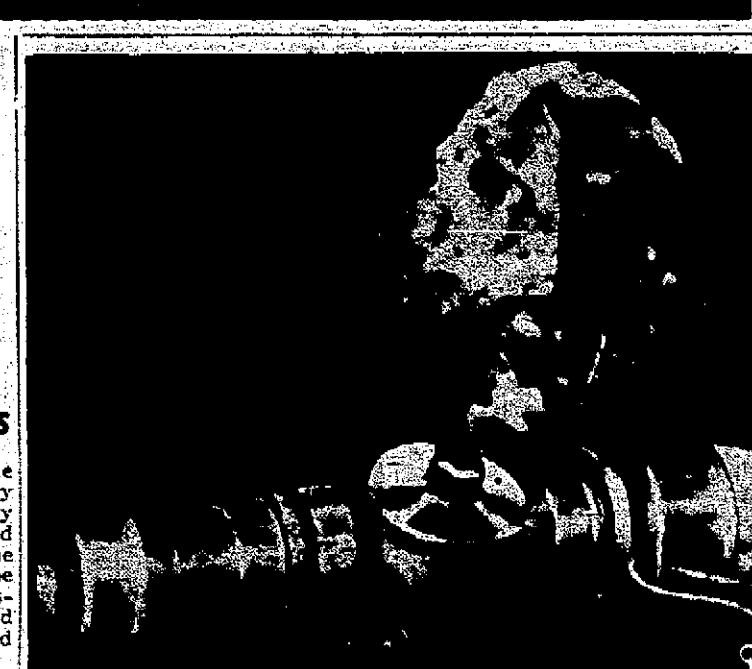

Mr. Saylor, who lived in Marion county when a boy, recalls in a letter to The Star, that nearly 75 years ago letters from cousins and neighbors—soldier boys who had helped win the Civil War and later had gone to Kansas to take up claims and establish their homes told of the ravages made by the grasshoppers in Kansas and Nebraska.

It was in 1873, Mr. Saylor recalls, that the insects raided the two states, "taking everything down to the grass roots." His father and other neighbors talked about sending a carload of supplies. They ordered a car and started wagons to gather provisions. In two days the car was full. There were 40 or more saloons in Marion at that time, according to Mr. Saylor. They didn't donate any whiskey, he says, but gave money to pay the freight on the car to its destination. The car was billed to a cousin, C. L. Saylor in Halstead.

Some of the families that joined his father in procuring the foodstuffs for the "friendship" car were Barney Saylor, Tom Campbell, Bill Owen, Frank Epley, Bill Haley, George Roberts, Jacob Hower, Bill Mack, Dave Seiss, Dan Uncapher, Ira Uhler, a Mr. Fribly, A. D. Matthews, Park Thew, A. Kling and others, whose names he cannot recall.

Some homesteaders sent their families back to Ohio for the winter, Mr. Saylor recalled in his letter. Harvey county, he says, wouldn't think that aid had ever been sent to Halstead, center of the richest and best county in the state. All went strong in aid for Europe. It is a strong demand that is shooting meat prices up into the stratosphere.

"I do believe, however, that speculation is responsible for the high price of wheat."

PREDICTS RATIONING OF MEAT BY SPRING

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Americans will be asking for meat rationing by spring, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said last night.

He told a radio audience he does not know whose job it would be to prepare ration forms if congress passes such a program, but he said the agriculture department is preparing to do so if asked.

"I hope we won't have to ration anything except meat," he said. "I believe rationing of this important food will have a strong effect on other food commodities and it will not be necessary to have any other controls."

He added that rationing "must have a general voluntary acceptance to be successful."

Asked about the effect of grain speculation on high meat prices, Anderson said it is hard to tell whether speculation caused high prices for meat, or meat prices encouraged speculation. But he added:

"In my opinion, speculation is not responsible for high meat prices. It is a strong demand that is shooting meat prices up into the stratosphere."

"I do believe, however, that speculation is responsible for the high price of wheat."

BOY SCOUTS JOIN IN CONSERVATION WORK

To Assist in Trapping Rabbits for Release in Country.

As a part of a conservation program now under way by the Boy Scouts in Marion, rabbit traps are being put out in yards throughout the city in order to trap the large number of rabbits in town and then turn them loose in the country. Plans for this program were announced by Owen Meddles, Scout field director.

The approximately 100 humane traps which are being set up are state property. O. H. Neluever, county game warden, announced, and that any person found tampering with the traps is subject to a fine. The traps belong to the state conservation department.

The traps, which are of wood construction eight inches in width, eight inches in height, and 30 inches in length, will be placed generally in the yards of Scouts who have reported seeing rabbits around their homes. The rabbit which is trapped cannot be molested by any other animal after it is in the trap. Scout officials reported.

The rabbits will be unharmed and will be turned loose in the country. Daily checks will be made on the traps which will be left out until it is possible for rabbits to gain food of their own.

Plans are also being made for the Scouts to participate in several fox drives which are being planned in the county. On Saturday, Jan. 10, a drive is being held in the territory of the Pleasant township school. No Scouts going on the hunt will be allowed to carry fire arms, the local Scout office announced, unless they have authority from the Marion Scout office.

CHICAGO ARRANGES TO ABOLISH STREET CARS

By The United Press.
CHICAGO—Modern buses are making the old-fashioned street cars obsolete, in the opinion of Chicago's traffic experts.

The Chicago Transit Authority has decided on a $150,000,000 modernization program which will call for replacement of 3,000 street cars and the demolishing of more than 700 miles of track.

"Street cars are too slow and they take up too much space in the center of the street," is the main objection of the traffic experts.

TRUMAN TRANSFERS CABINET AIR HEAD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—President Truman today switched the chairmanship of his cabinet air coordinating committee from the state department to the depart-

Assistant Secretary of State
Garrison Norton vacated the post and Mr. Truman named Undersecretary of Commerce William C.
Foster to head the group. The shift was recommended by Norton and the committee and was approved by Secretary of State Marshall.

A White House statement explaining the transfer said:
"The problems confronting the air coordinating committee next year will for the most part be those related to the condition of the aircraft industry, the stand-ardization of radio and other navigational aids, the development of a system of user charges, the joint support of international facilities, and the coordination of research, and development in civil air transport."

"These problems are predominantly domestic in character or of a nature in which the department of national defense and the department of commerce will have the greatest interest. It is also true that the international problems which led to the appointment of the department of state to the chairmanship have largely been resolved."

Vandenberg Can't Withdraw

THE question is whether Senator Vandenberg can take himself out of presidential politics by withdrawing as Michigan's favorite son. The answer seems to be that he is in presidential politics whether he wants to be or not.

Had it not been for his presence in the Republican party and his tireless efforts to carry the party with him into a new concept of international responsibility, Republican policy of foreign affairs today would be so hopelessly fuddy-duddy it would give the 1948 election to the Democrats by default.

Either the Republicans in congress must take their cue from Vandenberg on the Marshall plan in the next few months, or lose the prestige his foreign-policy leadership has given them—sometimes against their will. He is the party's outstanding statesman in a field where statesmanship has been a minus quantity.

The Michigan senator undoubtedly means it when he says he wants to do his job in the senate, untroubled by presidential night-thoughts. But he cannot withdraw from the group of qualified men that will supply the Republican convention next June with a winner—if the right man is chosen.

Same Old Story

THE first days of the new year didn't indicate that 1948 would be an improvement over 1947. The cable unions went on strike; in the south several towns were cleaning up after a tornado; and freezing rains coated wide areas in the north; 14 were killed in a Missouri train wreck; there was the usual scuffling in Greece and Palestine; jukeboxes were cut off from their source of supply, but it would be two years before the pipelines were empty; John L. Lewis sneered again at the AFL.

The new year hasn't got off to an auspicious start, except for Coach Crisler of Michigan, and he has set such a high standard for himself he may become a cropper before 1948 ends.

A Look at High Schools

DR. JOHN W. STUDEBAKER, federal education commissioner, says 4,000,000 of the 6,500,000 students in American high schools aren't getting all they should out of their schooling. He points out that while only 20 per cent go to college, as many as 80 per cent are taking some form of college preparatory course.

A nine-man commission has been set up to bring the curriculum closer to the needs of the day. It will consider the possibilities of such courses as job-hunting, budgeting, the use of leisure, civic responsibilities and the dignity of all types of labor. The "white collar" myth is in for another bad time. The study will go forward on the assumption that a student's schooling can be more useful in giving him experiences in home and family life, citizenship and occupational skills and attitudes. The belief that a study of Latin benefits anyone by reason of its "mental discipline" will be scrutinized critically.

Such a program might also consider the criticism of Dr. Harold Taylor, youthful president of Sarah Lawrence college, who says American education is developing into one massive quiz program, "with prizes and honors going to the most repulsively well-informed persons. Individual education, he says, "could be dealt with more significantly if we removed the entire mechanical engine of credits, grade points, formal examinations and required courses."

That such outspoken observations come from critics who are of the educational system and not mere outsiders bodes well for eventual improvement.

He's Their Boy

IN THE Communist Daily Worker, mention of Henry Wallace, Jefferson and Lincoln in the same paragraph is now standard procedure.

Says the Worker editorially: "The Wallace challenge is reaching deeply into American life, stirring memories of the Great Crusades of the past, rousing the heroic morality of America's great leaders who did not fear to fight entrenched greed, however powerful it seemed. That's how Tom Jefferson got started. That's how Lincoln's party began, down among the grass roots, where the sneers of the rich, the cowardice of the comfortable couldn't frighten anyone away."

Having failed to elect a corporal's guard to office on their own, the Communists have climbed on the Wallace bandwagon. They'll scare off more votes than they bring him, but through their newspaper they assure him a wealth of adulatory bombast and florid prose.

What's the Trouble?

SOMETHING is wrong with the nation's domestic airlines. Their passenger and cargo business is larger than ever before, but so are their deficits. Their loss in 1946 was $7,000,000; for 1947 it will approach $13,000,000. Meanwhile our overseas airlines are showing a profit.

This deserves the study of the civil aeronautics board. Have passenger fares and freight tariffs been fixed on an erroneous basis? Are competing lines offering too much duplicating service? A study of the differences in operating policy between domestic and overseas lines would be in order otherwise the domestic lines may expand themselves out of business.

Lies! Lies! Lies!

By George E. Sokolsky

Soviet Article Should Speak Volumes to Americans.

THE following is as much of an article printed in "Tagliche Rundschau," published in Berlin on October 15, 1947, as I have space for in this column. The article speaks for itself—and it ought to speak out loud to Americans:

"THE YOUTH OF TWO WORLDS"

"Young man, 20, healthy and robust, seeking any kind of position. Any offer accepted?"

"Discharged soldier, 23, completed high school education, ready to accept any kind of work, even that of workshop apprentice."

"Girl, 24, single, capable in a comprehensive way of any kind of work, seeks occupation no matter what kind."

"The American newspapers are jammed with such ads. They can be seen on many gates, exposed on poster-columns and on placards carried through the streets by numbers of weary and prostrate young people.

"The doors of the factories, in front of which crowds of unemployed are gathered continuously, among whom are many juveniles, bear big posters with the concise words: 'No employment.'"

"There is no work, no means of existence. How to find only a way to start, how carry on to make a living, how build a future? These are the questions which steadily torment the youth in the countries of capitalism."

"In its very substance, the capitalist system is exclusively concerned with the interests of a small group of society. A group of people who, holding in their hands all the capital and means of production, live through the exploitation of the great majority of the population. This privileged class have plenty to eat, dress well, live in nice, comfortable homes and are dominated by an ever growing greed for profit. They are surrounded by the state apparatus, always ready to please their masters for a small and modest aim. Faithful and devoted to the bourgeoisie, they keep careful watch on their wealth and welfare. They are their plain tools and assist them in fattening their purses, in exploiting the working man, getting rich at the hard expense of the misery of an immense stratum of the population.

"The working youth in the capitalist countries have no present, no future. From the very first day of independent life, the specter of hunger and starvation hangs upon them as a dark menace."

"In the hoofs of millions of America's unemployed, there are today many of minor age who, forced by misery, wander about the towns all day in the vain search for employment."

"(Here a few Russian employment advertisements are cited.) These are the ads which fill the newspapers, the shopwindows of Soviet Russia. Everywhere they can be seen, in the streetcars, in the subways, in the railroad stations all over the union. In all factories, all construction-plants throughout the country, there is need for labor-hands, engineers, technicians and employees. Working power is scarce, and therefore there is a widely expanded net of schools and institutes for the education and training of specialists in all branches and all grades of activity."

"There are, in the Soviet Union, over 800 universities, filled with hundreds of thousands of boy and girl students. In this one year alone, 180,000 students have been admitted to the different colleges and institutions. And how many girls and boys learn in the various schools and training courses! Over half a million people are going to enter this October the agrarian schools, where they will be instructed in all branches of economy and agriculture."

"While in some capitalist countries part of the youth are excluded from political life by age-limits, ownership census, (property) census, etc., all citizens in the Socialist state, who have reached the age of 18 have active voting right and at the age of 23 are eligible for election."

"The youth of the Soviet Union feel solid ground under their feet; they are not afraid of the days to come. They are, on the contrary, looking forward to each day, because every new day brings them closer to the realization of the dream every boy or girl cherishes."

"For youth, the Socialist Soviet order has opened wide the gates into the future."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The New Year brings us the abdications of King Michael, Henry Wallace and possibly Joe Louis.

Michael quit his throne for the woman he loved and Henry quit the Democrats for the man of whom he is most fond.

Michael couldn't marry Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma and remain king of Romania and as between Bourdon and Romania he chose Bourdon. . . . No commoner could do less.

If Joe Louis retires it would put a twist on the other recent abdications. . . . Here is a man who has actually been a champion.

Two Roosevelts have come out against Henry's candidacy. The rest of the family is being pulled now.

Sen. Taft doesn't see how the Republicans could lose in 1948. . . . In fact they still don't see how they lost in '32, '36, '40 and '44.

Henry at Armageddon

By Raymond Moley

THE first and most practical political question raised by Henry Wallace's third-party candidacy is numerical. How many votes can he get, and how many of these will be taken from Truman?

A second and more pointed question is geographical. Where will these Wallace votes be cast? Polls of all sorts will soon be pouring out, but they cannot be conclusive for a long time to come. The full Wallace strength is not visible and audible now, because support of his candidacy at this time is most unpopular.

The average Wallace confederate with the question of support, is likely to give either an equivocal answer or a renunciation of his former support. Only in the secrecy of the voting booth will he come clean.

The reason for this hesitation about public support of Wallace is that Wallace has taken a course which will subject him and his followers to serve and at times unjust criticism. True, many of his followers will be scheming eneemies even of the things Wallace wants. His camp will be the dwelling place of Communists and other subversive people. And the presence of these people there will make sincere critics of our foreign policy hesitate about openly acknowledging Wallace sympathy.

Nothing much but pure speculation can be offered as an answer to the question posed above. It is clear that Wallace's chance of upsetting Truman is in cutting the Democratic vote in a few states like New York, California, Illinois Ohio and Washington.

Florida On Poll

Last summer, Robert Kenner, the Wallace leader in California, told me of a poll he had taken among California registered Democrats. . . . figures at that time gave Truman 60 per cent; Wallace 40. These figures can hardly apply to present situation, for they were cast on the assumption that Wallace would run as a Democrat against Truman in the primary. Breaking from the party is another matter.

But if Wallace can take 10 per cent of California's vote from Truman, a Republican can probably carry the state.

In New York, Wallace's only chance rests with Congressman Macantonio's American Labor party. That party can scarcely hope to poll anything like its former vote. Perhaps 100,000 is the limit of what can be expected. It would be idle to guess Wallace's possible strength in other states.

Wallace may well be deluded by the large attendance at his meetings, by his mail and by the memory of his past strength. Father Coughlin suffered from a similar delusion in 1936, when he put Congressman William Lemke in the race. There was brave talk of 9,000,000 votes for the Coughlin candidate; but when the returns were in, Lemke had only 891,858, or 2 per cent of the votes. And the Lemke votes were cast in about a third of the states. Coughlin's popularity never recovered from this shock.

Many Are Spoiled

It is interesting to note the scramble toward orthodoxy by many hitherto strong Wallace supporters. This exodus is not entirely a matter of conviction. Many of these self-styled liberals have apparently been spoiled by their association with a successful party. For they are mostly old pioneer minority people who talked loudly about principle above all. Their principles are still those of Wallace, but they are now talking practical politics. They would rather live with Truman than die with Wallace. Their explanations of desertion are masterpieces of self-revelation.

Daily Bible Thought

All men are free in our civilized world. Religious conviction is good thing. When religion perishes in any land slavery is certain to return. We may even be slaves to evil habits.—Cor. 7:22 "He that is called in the Lord being a bond servant, is the Lord's freeman."

Branching Out

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Jan. 3, 1938. President Roosevelt told congress that "misuse of the powers of capital" must be ended "or the capitalist system will destroy itself through its own abuses" and at the same time called upon both capital and labor to cooperate with the government in working out the welfare of the nation.

Plans for a program of scientific temperance education in the city and county high schools, to get under way early in the new year, were discussed at a meeting of the Marion County Ministerial association.

Herbert R. Krebs was installed as president at a meeting of the Marion County Democratic club. Miss Mary Stremmen was re-elected president of District No. 7, Ohio Nurses association in a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Mardell Schmidt on Pearl street.

Mrs. L. O. Magill was elected president at a meeting of the Delphian club at the home of Mrs. R. L. Leeper on South Prospect street.

Mrs. Louise Christina Lettler Lower, 76, widow of Dr. H. J. Lower, died at her home on Summit street.

It was Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1928. Senator William H. King, Democrat of Utah, proposed a new world conference for total disarmament, abandonment of the government's proposed "billion-dollar" new Navy program and use of the money thus saved for humane purposes.

Major John J. Allen, divisional commander of the Salvation Army headquarters in Columbus, was a guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club held at Hotel Harding.

Mrs. Carroll Crotinger was installed as councilor at a meeting of Paramount Council No. 37, Daughters of America.

Talks on The Louvre and its art treasures were given by Miss Dorothy Strelitz and Mrs. Carl W. Lettler at a meeting of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs in the ballroom at Hotel Harding.

Walter Moore was chosen president of the National Honor society of Harding high school in a meeting held at the school. Harold Waddell was elected vice president. Miss Cleo Creechbaum, secretary, and a teacher, Miss Isabel Freer, treasurer. Miss Edith Brown was the group's sponsor.

New Year's, Christmas, St. Patrick's Day and All Fools' Day would always fall on Sunday.

Memorial day always on Thursday and Fourth of July always on Wednesday. Labor Day would always be September 4th; election day always November 7th and Thanksgiving always November 30th.

January, April, July and October would always be on the same day of the week.

The World Calendar

By Frank Tripp

IF THE calendar adjusters have their way we are now hanging up the last, but not the present day calendar we'll ever see. For 1950 we would hang up one that would last forever. The World Calendar, they call it.

January 1, 1950 was set as the day for its adoption. That date will fall on Sunday, which is the day all years would begin thereafter.

Forever and anon New Year's would always be on Sunday. Take heart, however, because it would always be preceded by two Saturdays or, if you prefer, a 48-hour Saturday.

Which should give ample time to float in the New Year and be in condition for church on Sunday morning.

December would have 30 days, not 31. When you awakened on Saturday morning Dec. 30 it would be like crossing the International Date Line. That day and date would last two days and two nights, 48 hours, before you tore a sheet off the calendar. If indeed you had or needed a calendar. The extra 24 hours would be a World Holiday.

That would be so that henceforth every year would start on Sunday and every date in every year would always be on the same day of the week.

New Year's, Christmas, St. Patrick's Day and All Fools' Day would always fall on Sunday. Memorial day always on Thursday and Fourth of July always on Wednesday. Labor Day would always be September 4th; election day always November 7th and Thanksgiving always November 30th.

January, April, July and October would always be on the same day of the week.

Fourteen governments have approved the World Calendar, including Mexico, Panama and China. Various organizations are advocating it in the United States, England, Canada, France, Germany, Italy and many other countries. They were aggressive before the war and set 1950 as its advent. That date seems impossible for international agreement would be necessary and that isn't being done much now.

The calendar makers are not among the boosters of the idea. A calendar would last a lifetime. Just how we'd decorate the walls of newspaper offices or keep abreast of undraped art models isn't made clear (abreast is used as an adjective).

The World Calendar doesn't destroy all current advantages nor correct all disadvantages. A six months note given in October still would shorten the winter. The first snow still would fall in Maine shortly after the August thaw.

And there's no device in it that either bolsters or softens the big blow of March 15th. Just to spoil the sleep of the superstitious, that national milkin' day would always fall on Friday.

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

By W. Wadsworth Wood

About 30 years ago we talked to one of the most famous waterproofers that this country has ever produced; a man who had acted as a consultant and contractor on many of the great building projects of the past two generations. The waterproofing of tunnels under rivers, municipal subway systems, deep excavations for skyscrapers, and subterranean structures, were run of the mill to this individual. He had one cardinal rule for waterproofing, and it was simply this—that the correct way to handle water was to keep it out, and not to try to handle it after it got in.

Over a half-century of home building has proved the theory to be correct. Where there are water conditions existing in a basement or cellar, the sound thing to do is to have the basement or cellar

First Aid to Ailing House

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Leaving House Vacant

Q. Can you give us any information on how to close a house for the winter, leaving it without any heat?

A. A plumber should drain all pipes, forcing all water out of bends, elbows and low spots in pipes, with compressed air. Traps and floor drains must be filled with a non-freezing and non-evaporating liquid, such as preparation used in automobile radiators for winter driving. Liquids in bottles that might freeze should be disposed of—also oily rags, matches, benzine or gasoline. Gas and electricity should be shut off by the utility company, and the door of the refrigerator left open. Tree branches that overhang the roof should be cut off to prevent squirrel invasion, and the chimney top should be covered with half-inch wire netting or a box securely fastened on to keep the birds out of the chimney. Carpets and woollens should be moth-proofed and stored away from mice. Furniture and beds should have a generous sprinkling of moth flakes. An isolated house should have lower windows protected with stout shutters. Police should be notified, and pets should not be allowed to stray off at the moment of departure.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I FOUND Katharine seated just outside Faith's door, which was slightly ajar, and deduced that my small daughter was fast asleep, for I knew that if she had stirred, my kinwomen would have been inside her bedroom with the door shut. She rose noiselessly as I came close to her, and spoke, prison-fashion, in my ear.

"All ready to leave?"

"Yes," I whispered back.

"Would you like to have one glimpse of your child before you go?" she went on with her rare understanding of a mother's mind, born of her own deprivation of motherhood.

"Oh, yes!" I breathed, not wasting time in asking if the experience would be safe, for Katharine does not propose impossible things.

"Then follow me," she said, "but don't touch her."

She opened the door wider with infinite pains, and I followed her to Faith's bedside. The child was curled up in her usual knot, with the coverlet bunched beneath her chin, but her exquisite little face was clearly to be seen in the half-light, and I breathed a little prayer for her safety while I should be gone. Then I turned away and followed Katharine out of the room.

She did not close the door, but went noiselessly away from it before she put her lips to my ear again.

"It's safe to whisper now," she said. "She's sound asleep. I wouldn't have dared let you look at her if she hadn't been."

"I know, and thank you," I pressed her hand as I spoke, then went on quickly.

"I don't know what his errand is," I said. "But Mr. K. arrived less than five minutes ago. Dicky and I are taking him over to my study. Mary can tell you all any of us know about his call. I suppose we shall go directly from my study, but I shall take time out to run over and tell you when we're going, and if there's anything you ought to know."

"There won't be," she said. "The home line doesn't need to know anything except that old

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A little house with big rooms, this story-and-a-half Cape Cod style cottage was designed by Elmer Gylleck, architect, 120 1/2 So. Grove Ave., Elgin, Ill. It calls for 21,800 cubic feet of construction with a full basement. "This conventional center hall arrangement will always be popular," says the architect. The house occupies an area of only 25x35 feet. For a more expansive project an attached garage could be linked to the house with a breezeway and porch could adjoin living room.

Condemned Man Goes

To Execution Singing

By The Associated Press

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 3 —He was singing "I'm going to meet my Maker" as the grim-faced witnesses filed into the execution chamber.

Finally all was set. First the noose was adjusted, then the black cap covering his head.

"Goodbye, fella," Deputy Warden Winter said.

"Goodbye, old boy," came a steady voice from behind the mask. "I'm going to heaven."

"I hope you do," Warden Skeen said.

The trap was released. Paul Burton, 33-year-old coal miner, was convicted of the murder of Willard Simpson, 23, a fellow miner shot in the back last summer after an argument near a mine tippie at Stirrat. He was executed here last night.

HARDING DUMPS FOSTORIA; MARYSVILLE DROPS ST. MARY

Prexies Scalp Redmen, 41-26, In Foul-Shooting Contest

Going into the final quarter with a scant four-point edge, the Harding Presidents turned on the heat to outscore Fostoria's Redmen 11 points and win 41-26, in a rough basketball game at Edison gym last night which deteriorated into a foul shooting contest in the last half.

Prexy forward, Dick Riddle, besides pulling his team together when 14 called fouls in the third frame threatened to put a stop to any basketball that had been in evidence, led the Harding cagers in scoring with 18 points.

Fostoria's scoring in the third frame was confined to foul shots—they made eight out of nine. Riddle sent in three baskets in that period while his teammates made good on four out of seven chances from the charity line.

Harding's two field goals in the second period were also made by Dick Riddle, both of them from under the basket after good passes from teammates had set up the shots.

Take Early Lead

The Prexies grabbed an early lead when Jim Coss sent one through going in and never relinquished the lead, though Fostoria came within two points at half-time after outscoring the locals, 10-7, in the second quarter.

Harding held Fostoria to a single two-pointer in the first period with a tight defense that didn't leave the Redmen any chances for good shots.

In the second period the Redmen found the hoop and sent in five of the eight field goals they made in the game. Chuck Switzer, high Redman with nine markers, led the second period rally.

After the Fostoria foul-shooting session in the third and early fourth quarters which drew out justified cries of protest from the Harding cagers and a technical foul when Coss scorned too loudly, the locals took their turn at the free throw line and made half of their 18 chances plus four field goals by Dick Gherman, Riddle and Dick Clark while holding the Redmen to two baskets, both by Chuck Switzer, and two free throws.

Six to the Showers
Six men went to the showers in the last period as their misdemeanors caught up with them—Carson Jackson, Ray Pastorius, Jim Coss and Charles Switzer of the invading team, and Jim Res and Dick Thomas of the locals. Pastorius left in a fit of pique after having a foul called on him in a struggle for the ball with Jim Coss, and was restrained from coming to blows with the officials by his teammates.

Dick Leffler led the reserves to a 35-31 shellacking of the prexies.

GALION CAGERS UPSET

CRESTLINE, 45-33

GALION, Jan. 3.—The Gallion High School Tigers upset a favored Crestline Bulldogs here last night, 45-33, in a non-league inter-city tilt.

The Tigers who got off to a wobbly start in the current campaign season put on a good show of ball-hawking, paced by veteran guard Leo Smith who hit the nets for 14 points and his back court mate Gerald Thatcher with 10.

Getting off to a six point lead in the first period, the Tigers were never seriously threatened, leading 21-14 at the half and 35-22 going into the last stanza. Bob Sand, Bulldogs guard was high for the losers with 12 points.

The Gallion reserves made it a clean sweep by taking the jayvee contest 28-20.

10 OHIO COLLEGES IN GAMES TONIGHT

Northwestern, Michigan, Utah
Invade Buckeye State.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—Ohio collegiate basketballers—most of whom deserted athletics for other holiday diversions—take up the cage cudgels in earnest again tonight in a 10-game program alive with big names.

Topping the evening's entertainment is a Big Nine struggle in Columbus between Northwestern and Ohio State, with the Buckeyes holding the edge in pre-game guessing.

Another Big Nine five, Michigan, visits Ohio for a go at the once-beaten Rockets of Toledo, while the highly touted University of Utah quintet stops over in Cincinnati university's home court.

Other games: Albion at Oberlin, Brown at Bowling Green, Adrian at Miami Union, Creighton at Xavier, Westminster vs. Miami at Cincinnati, Portsmouth Business college at Rio Grande and Cedarville in the Midwest Tourney at Terre Haute.

Seton Hall collected its second consecutive win over an Ohio club last night, tripping the Yellow Jackets of Baldwin-Wallace, 63-54, and severing a B-W win string of seven.

While Baldwin-Wallace was meeting the same fate meted by Seton Hall to then unbeaten Toledo the night before, undefeated Western Reserve university bounced Brown university, 63-32 for its eighth straight in the second game of a Cleveland area doubleheader before 7,189 fans.

That left Western Reserve as one of three Ohio quintets still unbeaten. Capital university and Wilberforce state each have won three and lost none.

In other games last night, Akron downed Albion, 73-43, and Miami edged Southwest Missouri State for third place in a tourney at Emporia, Kan., 50-46.

Yanks and Di Maggio Open Negotiations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The New York Yankees and Joe DiMaggio have opened negotiations on the salary the star outfielder is to receive for the 1948 season.

But just how far apart they are at this point can only be a matter of conjecture. Both parties have agreed to maintain a strict silence until a final agreement is reached, club secretary Arthur (Red) Patterson said yesterday.

Patterson admitted negotiations were underway in replying in a statement from the Yankees offices, to a report that DiMaggio was demanding $75,000 for his 1948 contract.

Most baseball men believe the big fellow will be satisfied if he can get somewhere close to $60,000. He received $42,000 last season.

BOSTON YANK GRIDDERS PICK UP BOB DAVIS

Davis, a six-foot, three-and-a-half-inch tackle, was named to move All-America teams than any lineman in the nation.

He was signed to a contract yesterday.

ILLINI-BADGER GAME TOPS BIG 9 CARD

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Illinois' undefeated basketball team, which has averaged 64.8 points per game in seven victories, travels to Madison tonight to tangle with Wisconsin's defending champs in the No. 1 opening contest of the Big Nine title scramble.

The only other conference engagement tonight sends Northwestern, with a 1-4 record, to Ohio State (won 3-1) at 8 p. m.

Illinois remains with Iowa (5-0) as the only undefeated Big Nine team through intercollegiate play. In addition to posting the best average attack score, the Illini have held opponents to a 37.1 average. The record, both offensively and defensively, is unmatched by Big Nine teams in non conference competition.

Indiana, after postponing Notre Dame 72-46 Thursday night, was defeated 64-51 by Butler last night as the Bulldogs won the annual Hoosier collegiate basketball meet in Indianapolis. Purdue, Butler's victim 52-50 in the opening round, lost 42-40 to Notre Dame in the meet's windup.

Kiner Seeks $25,000 In Pirate Contract

By International News Service

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Ralph Kiner, 25-year-old Alhambra bachelor who belted himself into baseball's hall of fame last season with 51 home runs for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was preparing himself today for a duel.

The task Kiner is facing is a salary huddle with Ray Hamey, general manager of the Pirates, who is due in town soon.

Kiner, 6 foot, two-inch, 195-pound slugger who tied with Johnny Mize in home run output, declared:

"Naturally, I expect a considerable increase over last year. I expect in excess of $25,000 but I foresee no trouble. Hamey and the Pittsburgh management have always been nice to me. I hit 23 home runs in 1946 and 51 in 1947. I think, gives me a good talking point."

Monarchs Edge Irish, 46-45, In Local's Second League Tilt

St. Mary lost a heartbreaker to Marysville last night, 46-45, in their second Mid-State league basketball appearance.

It was one of the oddest games in St. Mary history. The Irish trailed 20-3 at the end of the first quarter, scoring points on foul shots by Dick Schuler and Bob Stuber while McGuire and Evans led the Monarchs scoring spree with three baskets apiece.

Marysville caught St. Mary off balance all through the first period with a feeding pivot man type offense.

But the Irish began a long comeback and outscored the Monarchs throughout the remaining parts of the game. St. Mary came close to winning but lost in the last five seconds, nevertheless throwing a score into the victorious Marysville cagers.

Marysville was beaten twice in seven attempts before the St. Mary tilt. They lost only to Columbus West, 44-38, and Upper Sandusky, 37-36.

Play Like Winners

St. Mary played like a winning ball club all the rest of the contest holding the Monarchs scoreless for three minutes of the second period and outscoring them, 13-8, on free throws by John Baldau, Dick Schuler, Jim Moloney, Cork Cusick and Bob Stuber, and a basket apiece by Baldau and Schuler.

Wall, McGuire, Kingsmore and Evans accounted for Marysville's points in that quarter. The half ended 28-16 in favor of the Monarchs.

The Fettermen outscored the Monarchs even more in the third stanza, hitting the hoop for sixers while holding Marysville to six. Baldau, Schuler, Moloney, who is due in town soon, and Kingsmore and Grimes sent in the Monarch points.

The Irish played their hearts out in the final period, drawing closer to Marysville, but never quite overtaking them.

The Monarch five was more accurate in the final frame, netting 12 markers, but the Irish still outscored them by four points.

Out on Foul

St. Mary lost Jim Moloney, Baldau and Drake on fouls in the closing minutes.

With five seconds left, a foul was called on Evans and Schuler was given two free throws. Evans made good the first but missed the chance to tie the game by failing to connect on the second and the game ended with the Irish one point behind.

Captain Dick Schuler paced the Irish with 17 markers and Captain Kingsmore led Marysville with 13.

The junior Irish suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Monarch youngsters 33-25. Bill Merchant made 12 for the Irish and Hoffman led Marysville with 10.

TORNADO SURVIVORS GET FEDERAL HELP

By The Associated Press
SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 3 — The federal government moved today to help the survivors of the southern tornadoes who already are working busily to help themselves.

This northwest Louisiana area, particularly around Cotton Valley, was classified by the reconstruction finance corporation as eligible for disaster relief, thereby making loans for rehabilitation available to victims.

In addition, President Truman late yesterday afternoon directed the federal works administration to make available surplus personal property to state and local governments in Louisiana and Arkansas.

The tornadoes which hit last Wednesday and Thursday in five states — Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama — left a trail of 22 dead and 250 injured. Property damage was estimated unofficially at $1,500,000 in northwest Louisiana alone.

Cotton Valley, worst hit of the communities, had 18 deaths among its population of 1,500.

Programs on the Air

"The Greatest Story Ever Told," in completing its first year in radio, has been able to sustain the standard set by early broadcasts last January, which some skeptics seemed to think would be an impossibility in week-to-week production. This program is still put together under the same general framework. The passage from the Bible which is selected by Fulton Oursler, this theme is developed into a full length script by Henry Denker, and turned over to Waddill Catchings, production supervisor, who passes it on to a review board made up of clergymen of different faiths. Once the script has been approved, Director Max Loeb and Musical Director William Stoess prepare an outline of music which

William C. Bullitt, former U. S. ambassador to the USSR and Sen. Walter H. Judd (R., Minn.), both recently returned from China, will be two of the principal speakers during the Town Meeting Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. when the weekly radio forum discusses "What Should We Do In China Now?" Two other speakers on the Town Hall rostrum will be Far Eastern specialists Richard Lauterbach, editor-in-chief of the magazine, "48," former Time Magazine correspondent in China, and author of the book, "Danger from the East," and Owen Lattimore, director of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins university.

MARINES TO SAIL FOR GREEK WATERS

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 — A group of Marines whose number the Army declines to disclose will sail next Tuesday to strengthen U. S. forces aboard the aircraft carrier Midway, three light carriers and 10 destroyers now stationed in the Mediterranean sea. The cruiser Little Rock and two of the destroyers are based at Souda Bay, Greece, which this country has been trying to bolster against Communist encroachment. The other craft are in Italian waters.

The only clue to the size of the Marine force given in the Navy announcement last night was that the men, all from the Second division, will make the trip in a "normal size transport of 2,000 to 15,000 tons fully loaded."

WHITE HOUSE NEWCOMER—Feller, cocker spaniel pup, appears as he sits beside shipping crate in the White House after arriving as a gift to President Truman.

They will leave from Morehead City, N. C.
The men are being sent, the Navy said, or shipboard training and to "restore the total personnel on board to approximately the normal over-all complement" of the carriers and three cruisers.
Carriers in the Midway class normally carry 2,200 men; including 100 Marines, and cruisers 1,000 men, of whom 50 are Marines.

MISSING STUDENT OBJECT OF SEARCH

By The Associated Press
MERCHANTVILLE, N. J., Jan. 3 — A pretty dark haired New Jersey College for Women student who disappeared while enroute to a New Year's eve party in Drexel Hill, Pa., was the object of a nationwide police search today.

The 18-year-old sophomore Barbara Virginia Berry, was reported missing from her home here by her father, Lloyd H. Berry, a heating and plumbing contractor who told police he last saw his daughter about 1 p. m. Wednesday.

Berry said his daughter had two suitcases, one of which was filled with phonograph records and the other containing her evening gown. He added that Barbara told him she would return home today on Thursday or Friday. Berry explained however, that he became worried when he learned Barbara had not reached the party on Wednesday.

The girl's father said she might have gone to California for which she had a liking since she visited there with her mother upon her graduation from high school in 1946.

Gegenheimer Elected

By Noon Bible Class

Frank C. Gegenheimer was elected president at a meeting of the Wednesday Noon Bible class held Wednesday at the Y.M.C.A. Robert F. Williams was elected vice president and reelected were Dr. F. A. Stengel, treasurer, and Earl N. Hale, secretary. Mr. Gegenheimer formerly served as vice president and Carl Campbell is the retiring head of the group.

Dr. Edwin Brown, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, was the guest speaker. In his talk Dr. Brown suggested that the group appoint a special committee of not less than five members who will make a careful study and then outline programs for study and discussion to be presented over a three-month period. Have laymen as well as ministers make the presentations he suggested, and urged that it be done in such a way as "come to grips with vital issues of today." He suggested five areas in which studies are needed—areas in which the Christian church must be vitally concerned. He named the following: Church Unit, Area of the issue of family life, race, the church and labor movement and International Relations.

Ashley Adds Features

To Farmers Institute

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—New features to be added to Ashley Farmers' Institute Jan. 15-18, include some that have not been used for several years. Baked goods, which were discontinued when sugar rationing went into effect, may now be displayed with Mrs. Blanche J. Shoemaker in charge. Kenneth Barber will be in charge of the corn and grain display.

A sewing machine clinic, with Miss Margaret Donahoe, Delaware county home demonstration agent, in charge, is being arranged by Mrs. Margaret Blandes and will be held in the home economics room, not interfering with the regular sessions. Door prizes will again be offered.

Two speakers, specialists in their work, are on the program, together with home talent offerings and other interludes. On Wednesday night preceding the institute, a basketball game between the Ashley Merchants and the Farmers will be played.
